J.R. announced that Rex was celebrating a birthday. Gary Camp is also celebrating a birthday on the 23rd. Tom Dryg announced that his son was awarded a Fulbright Fellowship to study in Germany for a year. Our speaker, Jamie Jerod, also announced that his wife is expecting a baby soon.

The rose sale total for this year is 379, as compared to the 341 in sales last year. Wally also announced that there are enough people now signed up to work on the 27th to facilitate the rose sale distribution.

Eric announced that the next interclub meeting is at Co-manche at noon on Thursday.

Chad Reside won the ticket drawing and Dave Nichols won the marble drawing, but he drew a black one.

Jamie Jerod, Assistant Manager, was the guest presenter representing the Quad Cities River Bandits. He stated that a bridge has been built so that games can be played during the flood and that I-JOBS built a flood wall before opening game. He announced that there are special promotions for every night of the week, from Monday dollar hot dogs to Tuesdays children eat for free. There are unique menu items daily and fireworks every Friday night. The average crowd last year was 3,800 and last year sell-outs were at 5,500. Improvements have included an HD screen and a newly renovated skybox. All were encouraged to come and enjoy a game.
