Minutes from February 9 Meeting

George Hallas won the Super Bowl pool.

We'll be packaging meals for Kids Against Hunger on Saturday, February 12 at 9:00 a.m. at the Center on the corner of Brady and 14th Avenue, Davenport. Individual donations are being taken to cover the costs of the meals, in addition to what the club will contribute from the Special Fund. If you wish to donate or volunteer, contact Cyndy Behrer at beh-rerc@pleasval.k12.ia.us.

If you signed up to attend Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat at Circa 21, the show is Wednesday, February 10. Doors open at 5:45, Buffet is from 6-7:00, Preshow at 7:15, and Curtain at 7:45.

An interclub is scheduled to go to Rock Island on Monday,

February 22. They meet at the QC Botanical Center. If interested, contact Eric Engstrom at eeepccpa@aol.com.

Maria Levetzow announced that all the Dining Tour

Books had been sold, which means we receive an additional $400 bonus, resulting in a total profit of $2400. That's $920.00 more than last year. It was presented to the group that the budget line for Movies In the Park will be reinstated, thanks to the success of the Dining Tour Books. Thank you all for your hard work!

Maria also informed the group that the Library Director, Steven Nielsen, is resigning from the Bettendorf Library to move back to Utah to reunite his family after almost two years apart.

Chad Raeside won the raffle drawing for $2.00. Kristin Crawford chose a marble, which was black. The marble pot is now $198.00.

Bev Ricketts, program chair for February, introduced Jeff Boeh and Mike Garner, members of the Quad Cities Polo Club. Mike gave us a brief history of polo, with an explanation of how it came to the U.S. Jeff then spoke of the origins of the QC Polo Club. The QC Polo Club plays at Boeh Farm, 4150 Forest Grove Road, Bettendorf, Iowa 52722. They then answered questions about equipment, horses, and the rules. For full information about the Club and the game of polo, go to their web site at <http://www.quadcitiespoloclub.com>.

February 16: Ann Bitters and Ann Marshall, handlers for Tobago, Jefferson school's service dog
February 23: Karen Goodall & Cody Allen, Northwest Bank & Trust – Naming Your Executor: Is it an honor or a burden?
