Minutes from the March 8 Meeting

Jim Tiedje called the meeting to order. J.R. announced that Eric Engstrom and Dave Nichols have birthdays this week. Our guest speaker, Richard, is also celebrating his birthday this week.

Jim described the Café on Vine painting project, which was completed on Saturday, March 5. The dining room and the tray pickup area were painted. Jim thanks all who participated.

Our next interclub will be Monday, March 21, at noon on Rock Island. If you're interested in attending, please contact Eric.

In lieu of the raffle, the basket was passed to collect money for our April service project, a packaging event for Kids Against Hunger.

On April 2, we'll be participating in the Kids Against Hunger packaging event as part of Kiwanis Day of Caring. We'll start at 9:30 a.m. at The Center, on the corner of 14th and Brady. If you wish to participate, please contact Maria Levetzow. We have one full team already, we can send another team if we can gather the funds to do so, at $360 per team of 12. If you can't come that day, but would like to help out, consider sponsoring another member. Additionally, maybe your company would like to sponsor a team.

Rose tickets were distributed to members. Ticket sales are due by April 17th, Rose Day is April 27.

Heather presented ideas that she and Missy had planned to promote rose sales. They're looking at a Facebook page and flyers. Chad said that there will be a page on the web site at www.bettendorfkwanis.org with information on roses, as well.

March 29th will be the Legion of Honor Ceremony, honoring members who have been part of the Kiwanis organization for 25 years or more. Please make a special effort to try and join us for this celebration.

Janet Coogan reminded us that next week's meeting will take place at Scott Community College's Culinary Arts building. Map is attached.

Heather Rushenberg and her colleague, Richard, presented the program on the Infinite Loop. They discussed this philosophy from their business, Waddell and Reed Financial Advisors. Heather distributed pamphlets that detailed the concept.
